

Portfolio Commentary - 20260508

Source: `asx_eod_output\Report_CSV\Report_20260508.csv`

Generated: 2026-05-08 21:02:11 by `claude-opus-4-7`

Cost: $0.0357 USD (input 3950 tok = $0.0198; output 636 tok = $0.0159)

Headline

Portfolio closed at $1,444,529, down $9,245 on the day.

Top Movers

- BHP $57.95, -1.0%, -$9,326: gives back part of the prior session's sharp rally; still well above late-April lows.
- ASM $1.795, +1.7%, +$1,724: extends a steady uptrend from $1.59 ten sessions ago, the only material gainer.
- ALK $1.52, -0.3%, -$766: minor pullback after Wednesday's rebound; broadly range-bound near $1.50.
- WDS $30.05, -1.4%, -$567: fourth decline in five sessions, continuing a clear downtrend from $33.55.
- AMP $1.52, -0.3%, -$350: small dip after a steady climb from $1.44; trend intact.

Trend Notes

- WDS has drifted from $33.55 (30 Apr) to $30.05, roughly -10% across the window - the most sustained slide in the book.
- ASM trending higher from $1.59 to $1.795 (+12.9%), making fresh window highs.
- BHP recovered from a $53.72 trough to $58.52 before today's pullback - elevated volatility on the largest position.
- ERA, CAN, VML show flat or near-zero price movement across the full window - effective stalls on small holdings.

Risks / Watch

- Concentration: BHP is ~66% of portfolio value; single-day swings dominate P&L (today's -$9,326 essentially is the portfolio's loss).
- WDS repeatedly dragging - down in 7 of the last 10 sessions on this window.
- CBA ($175.91, -1.9%) and WBC ($37.44, -4.8%) are watchlist-only but WBC's sharp drop is notable given its prior climb to $39.34.