

Portfolio Commentary - 20260424

Source: `asx_eod_output\Report_CSV\Report_20260424.csv`

Generated: 2026-04-24 20:38:20 by claude-opus-4-7

Cost: $0.0335 USD (input 3946 tok = $0.0197; output 550 tok = $0.0138)

Headline

Portfolio closed at $1,418,713, down $9,639 on the day.

Top Movers

- ALK $1.60, -5.3%, -$13,786: extends a sustained slide from $1.88 mid-window; trend continuation.
- BHP $56.10, +0.1%, +$1,145: modest gain, consistent with sideways range around $56.
- WDS $32.61, +2.6%, +$1,082: second up-day off the $30.79 low, a reversal of the earlier downtrend.
- ASM $1.70, +2.1%, +$2,011: fresh window high, continuing a steady climb from $1.45.
- ERA $0.003, -25.0%, -$700: back to window low; choppy at sub-cent levels.

Trend Notes

- ALK has fallen on 7 of the last 10 sessions, from $1.785 to $1.60 (~10% drawdown).
- ASM in a clean uptrend, rising nearly every session from $1.445 to $1.70.
- WDS bounced from $30.79 to $32.61 over two sessions after a seven-day decline.
- CAN flat at $0.005 almost the entire window; effectively stalled.

Risks / Watch

- BHP represents ~65% of portfolio value - heavy single-name concentration; daily P&L is dominated by its swings.
- ALK is the repeat drag, contributing the bulk of today's loss and trending lower through the window.
- CBA (zero units) fell from $183 to $174 across the window and WBC from $42.59 to $39.01 - watchlist names showing clear weakness.