

Portfolio Commentary - 20260505

Source: `asx_eod_output\Report_CSV\Report_20260505.csv`

Generated: 2026-05-05 21:06:44 by `claude-opus-4-7`

Cost: $0.0359 USD (input 3946 tok = $0.0197; output 648 tok = $0.0162)

Headline

Portfolio closed at $1,379,008, down $681 on the day.

Top Movers

- BHP $54.72, -0.4%, -$3,763 — extends a soft drift from the $56 area earlier in the window; consistent with the trailing downtrend.
- ASM $1.70, +2.7%, +$2,586 — rebound back to the window high after dipping mid-period; reversal of the prior two-day softness.
- WDS $32.71, +1.9%, +$773 — partial recovery after Monday's pullback; broadly consistent with the rising trend off $30.79.
- AMP $1.475, +0.3%, +$350 — fifth straight gain, extending the steady uptrend from $1.425.
- CNB $0.425, -6.6%, -$300 — continues the drift lower from the $0.555 peak on 27 Apr.

Trend Notes

- ALK has fallen from $1.65 to $1.475 over the window, then flatlined for the last three sessions — sustained drift now stalled.
- AMP shows a clean step-up trend from $1.425 (29 Apr) to $1.475, gaining each of the last five sessions.
- WDS has trended higher across the window (+6.2% from $30.79), with one mid-week dip.
- ERA and CAN essentially zero-volume stalls — unchanged or near-unchanged across all 10 sessions.

Risks / Watch

- BHP concentration: at $895k it is roughly 65% of portfolio value, and its drift has driven the daily loss again today.
- WBC (watchlist, 0 units) dropped 2.3% to $37.63, breaking below its recent $38.20–$39.40 range — worth monitoring.
- CNB down four of the last five sessions and now $0.425 versus a $0.555 high — repeat drag on small-cap sleeve.